You may get this warning but don't worry. It won't cause a flat tire on your car or your toilet to be stopped up. And they're mostly just nonsense anyway.

The older I get the less I care about it. And you'd best not let anybody see you looking at this. They'll think you're as crazy as I am.

During my life, this is how it's been:

About some things e.g. criminal behavior at all levels; including cruelty to animals. I'm to the right of Attila the Hun and Adolph Hitler. Were I some kind of omnipotent power, Most of the prisons in the USA would be half empty. I don't like wasting tax money to support predators and psychopaths. For the same reason that we swat mosquitoes and take antibiotics to kill germs, I would eliminate these criminals. It's in their DNA and they can not be rehabilitated. This also goes for the white collar type. No more country club prisons. And what? Do you really think it matters? We kill them and then we live forever? And this is not about justice. It's only about eliminating threat. The only time justice ever happens, is by accident anyway. If the US justice system was worth more than poot, 20% of US CEOs would be in prison.

About other things e.g. environment and poaching. I'm to the left of Al Gore and Green Peace. I'm not a Greenie to save the planet.....which is idiocy anyway. I'm Green because I don't dump my garbage in my yard and I don't shit in my living room.

And still about other things, I'm to the left of John Lennon and Jesus Christ e.g. slavery, neglect and abuse of the poor.

As for stuff like Social Security, I don't even think of it as politics.

Mostly, I'm just somewhere around the middle, and/or I don't care. Whoopy Padoot, Save the planet
WHeeeeeeeeee!

And if any of this matters to you, pull up a chair by the fireplace, I'll pour you a drink and you can join me in celebration.
