The Honorable Senator John Cornyn

Dear Senator Cornyn,

In my mid 70s, I did my military service longer ago than I like to think about:

However, I believe my service is why, on several occasions, you chose to answer my letters (before email days – old fashioned paper & envelop) and even, to some degree, assist me.

Now that it has become very apparent that when I need help with what dominates our lives – computers & cyber space, I get my best help from children.....even very young ones.

But they can't help me with this one:

Only my government has the power to deal with it.....if my government ever even becomes somewhat aware of it and figures out where to start. This problem is certainly not something that my president only vaguely has some awareness of.....because it has caused him and continues to cause him so much trouble – Russia, Facebook, Mueller Investigation etc.

Because I'm not a child and therefore don't have confidence in my ability to deal with things internet, I am going to submit this in three different ways and hope that , at least one of them will get through to you. So here first, what I put in this box. Next, via a Google Drive monkey business.....I could have thought of a good military term for this but it would be somewhat vulgar:

And third, on my website:
